Three Star Fix owner to chair Communications Committee for Portland Small Business group

--Agency Exec tasked with coordinating Committee activities for 2008/09.

PORTLAND, Oregon. Steve Rawlinson, owner and creative director of the Portland Ad firm Three Star Fix, LLC has been selected to chair the Communications Committee for the Portland Small Business Advisory Council (SBAC). For 2008 the committee has been tasked with developing a communications plan for SBAC to increase the group's visibility, to spread the word about the importance of SB as a driver of the economy and to provide outreach with other SB groups and organizations in the City.

As an SBAC member since 2006, Mr. Rawlinson has been active in helping the group achieve its goal of providing a voice for Small Business with the Portland City Council, City bureaus and staff regarding policy issues that affect SB. In 2007 the group supported various causes including the Small Business Bill of Rights which was unanimously adopted by the City and signed by more than 200 businesses, and the building of a Business information portal on portlandonline.com.
